Mr. Gary,

Thank you for your correspondence. It has taken us a while to get back to you as we took time to think about how to handle this situation. We have checked out your website and notice that even though you had used 287 images from our site without contacting us for prior permission that you have given the museum credit in those cases and provided links (though many are no longer valid) to our website. We do acknowledge that this has been a service to us, directing your users to us. Therefore, you may continue to use the images; however, please update the links and credit us as "The Mariners' Museum and Park" as we are now known.

By the way, I notice many of your images are marked as Public Domain, You may want to do some research on that part because many may not be automatically in the public domain. Good luck with your site, it is obvious that you have put much work into it. Take care.
